DOOTOR COMMITS SUICIDE.

Because his bride, to whom he was married in Wheeling, W. Va., only two months ago, refused to go back to him a'ter a few weeks of matrimony, Dr. Albert Delgaudio, a Spanisrd, shot himself as he talked with her over the telsphone in New York yesterday afternoon. He was chatting with her over a wire cut of his office, on Twenty-ninth street, and besteching her to return to him. When she seemingly rephone in his left hand while he pulled bis pistol with his right and, aiming at his breast, shot himself.

Julia Delgaudio, the sister, who with the doctor and his brother Hamberto, conducts the Metropolitan Exchange, in New York, was just outside the rom in which the shot was fired. She and The new Callcoes for spring 1909 are now on sale. We show only the best makes in very large variety of the newest patterns—both light and dark.

In which the shet was fired. She and her trother said fater to the police that about two months ago the doctor had met a pretry young West Virginia girl and had fallen in love with ber. They had been married and during the time they lived together the doctor was time they lived togo her the doctor was larish in his expenditure, but the young woman left him two weeks after the ceremony. Since then she had called on him for sums of money, which the sister said, the doctor had readily given her, hoping that she would return to him. She said he had made her a reguhim.

lar allowance of $25 a week.
Yesterdry atternoon the doctor locked himself in the room where the telephose hung and the sister heard some of the conversation that passed over the phone.
"Hello dear. If you will come back to me," she says she heard, "I will give you anything you want."

The soswer was apparently unsatisfactory, for the heard him plead more and in a way that convinced the sister that the woman on the other end of the telephone had given him a positive re-fussi. The listener heard a shot and

It was looked, so she and Hamberto called a policeman. He broke open the door to find the doctor on the floor with a revolver in his hand. The telephone receiver hung down as he dropped it; the bride had no doubt heard the sho with which her husband meant to kil

THE ANTI-JAPANESE BILLS. In the further effort to prevent the adeption of anti-Japanese bills in the California legislature. President Roosewelt sent another long telegram to Speaker Stanton yesterday, in which he again urged the wisdom of keeping faith with the Japanese, and announced his determination to bring a test sait imme-diately after the passage of the proposed school bill, to have the federal courts determine whether or not it is in contravention of the trea'y with Japan.

In the this telegram, the President goes further than he has yet done for publication, and makes use of language which certainly will be taken as a warn-ing to Japan, that the present attitude of this government may undergo a change if the "gentleman's agreement" regarding the volusters restriction of this emigration should prove in the next year or two not to be working satisfactorily.

Twice the president speaks of the possibility of "further action" by this government in a manner which may be taken to mean his recognition of the pos sibility that that action would take the form of a federal law of exclusion.

If the temper of the California delegaion in Congress is any indication of the result, the president made a bad mess of his attempt to improve condition. Nearly every member of the delegation is angry, and two of them spoke their minds freely in public yesterday, with a promise of more to follow.

The ill-feeling directed toward the president by the Californians was caused by Mr. Roosevelt's severe criticism of certain members of the delegation, in con-nection with individuals among their own number.
